Artist Statement

As an artist based in Vadodara, India, my work encompasses the beauty of home-making, both on a personal and societal level. Through my paintings and sculptures, I explore the architectural elements of domestic spaces, imbuing them with a sense of nostalgia and comfort. The figure of a woman is a recurring motif in my work, as she embodies the many roles and identities within a household. Each of my pieces is a reflection of the multifaceted experiences of women, as they navigate through life and juggle various responsibilities. My art is a celebration of the strength, resilience, and beauty of these women, as well as a testament to the many works they do to keep their homes and families running.
